

Data Protection Extend & Accelerate

We understand the cost, time and resource pressures that data protection and compliance teams are under. The issues you are dealing with are of increasing urgency, complexity and volume, at a time of ever-increasing awareness of data privacy issues, massive technological upheaval and rapid development of the legal system. Often you are asked to do more with less and it is increasingly difficult to find suitably qualified resource with practical knowledge.

What is the solution?

DWF now offers a cost-effective resource enhancement option to ensure you have the right solution available to deal with those challenges. We have dedicated part of our Data Protection & Cyber Security team in the UK and Poland to deliver short, medium and long-term support to integrate within and work as part of your business.

When might you need our support?

This might be a peak of activity following a data breach, DSAR, audit finding or regulatory review, or it also might result from staff absences or greater organisational awareness of the compliance tasks needed.

Our team provides expert, low-cost remote support from the UK and Poland, with options for on-site support for those who require it.

Are the team qualified to support?

Data Protection Extend & Accelerate consists of team members who have been through the IAPP CIPP/E data protection training and exam, as well as an intensive data protection staff augmentation training course designed and delivered by DWF's UK Data Protection and Cyber Security team, one of the leading law firms in the field. The training has focused on typical in-house data protection needs based on our practical experience and that of our previous client engagements.

Members of our Data Protection Extend & Accelerate team have excellent academics and spoken English, with a keen dedication to progress and resolve matters for our clients.

How does this help you?

- You're in the driving seat: Flexible resource at your time of need on a long or short-term basis.
- Right people in the right place: Our unique solution gives you a guaranteed, reasonable cost support without compromising on quality.
- Underwritten by expertise: The team have been through bespoke training and work as part of our leading Data Protection & Cyber Security practice, ensuring you are benefiting from our latest insights and ways of working.
