

DWF RAPID Incident Response Readiness ('IRR')

How confident are you in your Incident Response Readiness?

dwfgroup.com

DWF RAPID IRR enables effective incident response

DWF RAPID stands for Resilience Assessments Powered by Insightful Data.

RAPID is a web-based assessment tool that provides users with immediate, granular and visual insights into their organisation's Data Protection and Cyber Security operational and legal risk and resilience, by testing confidence levels.

What does RAPID IRR do?

RAPID IRR asks a user twenty questions about their confidence levels in relation to an organisation's Incident Response Readiness. When they have submitted their responses the user is immediately able to download a report with the results of the assessment.

Why Incident Response Readiness?

Every organisation is at risk from cyber security incidents and personal data breaches. From large scale cyber-attacks to the loss of paper records, the range and scale of the threat to network/ data security and business resilience is vast. When a breach occurs, there is a need to respond rapidly and robustly, ensuring that operational needs and legal and regulatory obligations are met. Assessing readiness and preparing for such events helps to ensure that the response is as effective as possible when the time comes.

Additional options for support from DWF during key stages of incident response

- First hours. We will quickly assess the situation and provide initial advice on the operational and legal steps you should take
- First day. We will help you develop your strategy for incident response, advising on "no regret" activities and instructing other experts on your behalf to support with forensic containment, recovery from and mitigation of the incident, and handling of PR and communications needs.
- Within 72 hours. We will advise you on your regulatory and other legal obligations, litigation risks and assist you in making any required notifications.
- 72+ hours. We will provide necessary ongoing expert support in relation to your regulatory, technical, communications and legal needs.
- Regulatory investigations. We can represent you through all stages of a regulatory investigation including in relation to enforcement action.
- Claims management. Sometimes an incident will lead to subsequent litigation risks. We can provide advice and representation to you in relation to all aspects of litigation, including dealing with initial correspondence, DSARs, and any subsequent proceedings which are brought.
- Post Incident Review. We will advise you on how to improve your resilience and compliance to minimise further risks.

Why use DWF RAPID IRR

Quick, easy, effective

In many circumstances DWF provides RAPID for use free-of-charge to clients.

The process of using RAPID is very simple: it only requires the sharing of contact details for the client user, after which the user will receive emails enabling access and use.

Insight

RAPID provides a very time efficient way to gather a broad set of insights regarding the operational state of Incident Response Readiness within the organisation being assessed. It avoids the need for costly and time-intensive forms of testing such as audits and reviews.

Adaptability

There are many ways to use RAPID, from surveying a single user's views through to gathering the perspectives of hundreds of users in all different parts of the business and developing detailed analytics. RAPID is scalable and pliable to meet almost any requirements.

Support

Whatever the use case and circumstances, DWF are on hand to support clients throughout scoping, participant selection, performance of the RAPID(s), analysis, reporting, and next steps. It can even be used over time on a repeat-basis to gauge the extent to which change is being achieved.

Impact

Clients can choose to rely upon RAPID results to make decisions quickly and act upon issues. From tactical spot-fixes in individual business areas through to strategic change requiring programmes of work, RAPID has been used to underpin all manner and scale of business transformations.

Content: RAPID's Incident Response Readiness module contains 20 questions focusing on key domains of IRR, including security maturity, threat and vulnerability management; triage and impact assessment; legal obligations for incident response; investigation, containment, recovery and remediation; litigation and disputes; governance; communications; playbooks; testing and measuring response capabilities; record keeping; and continuous improvement.

For support including incident response services or to enquire about use of RAPID or to request a RAPID demo contact breach.counsel@dwf.law

DWF is a leading global provider of integrated legal and business services.

Our Integrated Legal Management approach delivers greater efficiency, price certainty and transparency for our clients.

We deliver integrated services on a global scale through our three offerings; Legal Services, Legal Operations and Business Services, across our eight key sectors. We seamlessly combine any number of our services to deliver bespoke solutions for our diverse clients.

© DWF, 2023. DWF is a global legal services, legal operations and professional services business operating through a number of separately constituted and distinct legal entities. The DWF Group comprises DWF Group Limited (incorporated in England and Wales, registered number 11561594, registered office at 20 Fenchurch Street, London, EC3M 3AG) and its subsidiaries and subsidiary undertakings (as defined in the UK's Companies Act 2006). For further information about these entities and the DWF Group's structure, please refer to the Legal Notices page on our website at www.dwfgroup.com/legal-notices.

Where we provide legal services, our lawyers are subject to the rules of the regulatory body with whom they are admitted and the DWF Group entities providing such legal services are regulated in accordance with the relevant laws in the jurisdictions in which they operate. All rights reserved. This information is intended as a general discussion surrounding the topics covered and is for guidance purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice and should not be regarded as a substitute for taking legal advice. DWF is not responsible for any activity undertaken based on this information and makes no representations or warranties of any kind, express or implied, about the completeness, accuracy, reliability or suitability of the information contained herein.

dwfgroup.com